

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4. 1743.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from Holland, and another from France.

Petersburgh, July 5. O. S.

On the 13th the Son of General Romanzow arriv'd here with the joyful News of the Ratification of the Preliminaries for a Peace, and of the Election of the Duke, Administrator of Holstein, to the Succession of the Crown of Sweden, which has occasion'd inexpressible Joy. It is remarkable, that her Imperial Majesty happen'd to be at the very same House, when Capt. Romanzow deliver'd her his Dispatches, that her Father, the Czar Peter, of immortal Memory, was in, when he received the News of the Peace concluded at Nyftadt. The young Gentleman who brought this agreeable Intelligence, was immediately promoted to the Rank of a Colonel, tho' but Eighteen; and her Imperial Majesty was pleas'd to tell him, That his Father had prevented any Censure that might follow, by putting so young a Man at the Head of a Regiment, by giving so good a Peace to the Russian Empire; which would give him an Opportunity of increasing his Experience, before an Occasion should offer for his entering upon Service. The Czarina having declared her Intention to spend the Winter at Moscow, some dissatisfied Persons had caus'd a Report to be spread, that she would take that Opportunity of resigning her Crown; and the Grenadiers of the Guard taking Alarm at this, threw themselves at her Feet as she pass'd through them, and cried out, Dearest Mother, do not abandon us. Upon which her Imperial Majesty command'd them to rise, assur'd them the Report was void of all Foundation, and made a publick Declaration to the same Purpose on the last Day of the last Month, which was the Name-Day of the Grand Duke.

Stockholm, July 17. O. S. It has been resolv'd in the Secret Committee, to send immediately a Minister to Petersburgh, to obtain from the Grand Duke of Russia his Renunciation for himself, and his Heirs, not only of all his Rights on the Crown and Dominions of Sweden, but also on the Allodial Estates of the Royal House of Wasa, pursuant to the Third Article of the Preliminaries. The Time is not yet fix'd for the Arrival of the Duke of Holstein-Eutin, Successor to the Crown, which is apparently owing to the Necessity there is of fixing, previously, the Capitulation he is to sign, the principal Article of which will be, That he shall maintain the Constitution, as it is at present established, and the Settlement of his Court and Revenue. The Dyet will speedily proceed to the Consideration of the following Points.

- I. The regulating and fixing, for the future, the Authority of the King and Senate in such a manner, as that the Government may always find a proper Support, and the Liberty of the People run no Hazard of being ever subverted.
- II. The Rank which the Successor to the Crown shall hold in the Senate.
- III. When, and in what manner, Foreign Ministers may be allow'd to be present in the Dyet.
- IV. The establishing a certain Commission for regulating the Number and Quarters of the Troops that shall be hereafter sent into Finland.
- V. The Instructions necessary to be given to the Board of Trade, for the Encouragement, Protection, and Enlargement of the Commerce and Manufactures of the Kingdom.
- VI. The regulating the Civil List in such a manner, that the Crown may be supported with as much Magnificence as the present Circumstances of its Subjects will admit.
- VII. Heads of Advice to his Royal-Highness of Sweden, in case he shall incline to marry.

From the Time that Notice was given to Count Lewenhaupt and General Bodenbrock, that they should prepare for their Execution, their Relations and Friends have left no Means untry'd, in order to engage his Majesty to soften the Sentence; but the King thought proper to put an End to these Representations, by declaring that the Thing was out of his Power, and that he could not dispense with a Judgment pronounced by the States. Count Lewenhaupt caus'd a Memorial to be presented to the Dyet, penned in very strong Terms, wherein he says, He did not desire to avoid his Execution from the Fear of Death, but from his being conscious to himself that he was perfectly innocent of all that was laid to his Charge; and that, as a good Subject, he was extremely apprehensive, that his Blood, when shed, might cry for Vengeance to God against the Authors of his Death.

The Dyet order'd an Answer to be endor'd upon this Memorial, importing, That he was condemn'd upon full Evidence, agreeable to the Civil and Military Laws of the Kingdom, and that therefore there was no Room to doubt of the Justness of his Sentence. The Son of General Bodenbrock presented to the Dyet a Letter, which he found amongst his Father's Papers, and which, coming from a certain Minister of State, he thought would amount to a full Justification. But the Dyet were of another Sentiment, and declared, That the Private Intimations of a Person, in any Station whatever, could no way countenance another in acting contrary to the Duty he owed to the King and Kingdom. It is now look'd upon as a Thing certain, that these unfortunate Noblemen must suffer.

Modena, July 22. The King of Sardinia having withdrawn almost all his Cavalry from hence, as well as from Parma, Placentia, Reggio, and Casal-Maggiore, there remains now no more than 300 of his Troops in this Country, who have taken up their Quarters in the Neighbourhood of Reggio. All the Piedmontese Foot are still in Lombardy, where they are to act in Conjunction with her Hungarian Majesty's Forces. It is agreed, that as soon as the Reasons cease for which these Forces are recalled, they shall be sent back hither. The Magistrates of Health, thro' the Grand Duchy of Tuscany, have cut off all Communication with Naples as well as Sicily, in order to prevent the Contagion from penetrating into his Royal Highness's Dominions.

Berlin, July 31. His Majesty has written to the Regency of the Duchy of Cleves, and to the Royal Commission of Guelders, to grant a Passage to the Dutch Troops thro' his Territories, in their March to Germany. His Majesty having suspended, during the rainy Season, the Reviews in Silesia, has resum'd them again on the Return of fair Weather. We expect the Court back by the 15th from Breslaw, and soon after the King will set out for Aix la Chapelle and the Spa. It is talk'd here, as if his Majesty would send 10,000 Men thro' the Elector of Saxony's Country into the Territories of the Duke of Saxe-Weimar, who has some Way offended him. M. de Valori receives frequent Couriers from Versailles, but is not over well received at Court.

Vienna, July 27. The Queen, who is at present at the Castle of Schonbrun, advances very happily in her Pregnancy. Her Majesty and the Grand Duke are both expected back by the 15th of next Month. Sir Thomas Robinson receiv'd lately a Courier from the King his Master, who no sooner deliver'd his Dispatches, than he set out for Turin, with Letters of vast Importance. Count Traun having inform'd her Majesty's Ministers, that the Apprehensions of the Plague oblig'd him to alter his Plan of Operations, in Consequence of which, he order'd his advanc'd Troops to repass the Panaro; as soon as this was known to her Majesty, she sent Prince Lobkowitz Word he need not put himself to any sort of Expence in order to be in Italy early, but might go at Leisure, and as he found it most for his Convenience.

Hanau, August 4. The Austrian Forces in the Army of the Allies began their March this Day for the Rhine. To-morrow, or at farthest the Day after To-morrow, the rest of the Forces will move the same Way. It is intended, that this Army shall pass at the time when Prince Charles's passes it. We conceive the latter will meet with far greater Difficulties than the former, since the French have taken possession, and fortified, in a manner, all the strong Places between Fort Louis and Hunnegue. The Duke of Arcomberg being still very ill with his Wound, has thought it convenient for him to return to Brussels; and Marshal Count Neuperg commands the Forces mention'd to have pass'd the Rhine. Count Browne, the Queen of Hungary's Minister to his Britannick Majesty, is set out for Prince Charles's Army; and M. Waser, who resided with the same Character at London, is just arriv'd from Vienna, full fraught with Instructions of the last Importance, both as to War and Peace.

Hague, August 9. Major-General Kretschmar, who had a Command in the Troops which are to serve as Auxiliaries to the Queen of Hungary, has demand'd, and obtained his Recall, on account of his being exceedingly indisposed. The Partizans of France here having positively declar'd, that his Prussian Majesty would not suffer our Auxiliaries to pass thro' his Dominions, his granting, of his own Accord, a free Passage, has, in a manner, struck them dumb. M. de Fencion has order'd the Memorial he lately presented to the States to be printed.

Extract from the Paris Almanac. Paris, Aug. 9. M. Van Hoey, Ambassador from the Republick of Holland at this Court, went on Monday last to Ver-salles, on Account of a Courier he received from the Hague. His Excellence, who has now resided here 17 Years, has, at his own Request, receiv'd his Recall, and is to continue here no longer than till the States assign him a Successor.

M. Paris de Vernay set out last Monday for the Army, in Quality of Captain-General of Provisions.

The two Advocates who were involv'd in the Affair of Madam Fourneaux, condemn'd to be hang'd for Forging the King's Hand, but since pardon'd, receiv'd Sentence last Monday at the Arsenal; which was, To be confin'd for the Space of Nine Years, and to forfeit their Employments.

Last Wednesday there happened a prodigious Storm in Picardy; so that the Thunder which fell at Fretots burn'd down 12 Houses, and several more at Roye.

We are assur'd, That the Queen of Hungary will yield up Ostend and Newport to the English, in Mortgage for the Money she has borrow'd from England.

This, probably, is thrown out to alarm the Dutch. We are inform'd from Franckfort, That on the 17th of last Month a Council of War was held there, on the Declaration of M. Blondel to the Dyet, That his most Christian Majesty's Troops were to be no longer considered as Auxiliaries; and that it was expected thereupon, the Dyet should require the English to retire, as we had done.

This is a mere Falshood, sadly told. On the 27th the Dyet granted his Britannick Majesty a General Forage for Five Days only.

The Count de Montmorenci took Leave of the King last Tuesday, on receiving Orders to put himself at the Head of his Regiment, now marching to join the Infant Don Philip.

M. de Pajot, Intendant of Orleans, and M. de Courteil, Ambassador in Switzerland, have been lately seiz'd with Apoplexies.

We have Advice, That a Body of 12,000 English pass'd the Rhine on the 2d, at Bibrich; and that Prince Charles with his Army is in full March to pass it a little below Oppenheim.

Actions 1030.

On the 16th of July Lieutenant-General Buddenbrock was beheaded at Stockholm, pursuant to his Sentence. He wrote to the Dyet, desiring to be shot, but that was refused him. He died with great Composure of Mind, and with very high Protestations of his Innocence. He was afterwards buried in a manner becoming his Quality.

The Birth Day of the Emperor was to be celebrated on the 6th Inst. N. S. at Frankfurt, with the utmost Magnificence; his Imperial Majesty entering then into the 47th Year of his Age.

His Grace the Duke of Richmond and Aubigne being invited by his Royal Highness Prince Charles of Lorraine, is gone to see his Army; and several other Persons of Distinction propose paying him the like Compliment.

According to private Letters from Paris, the keeping up of their Actions is owing to some good News the East India Company lately received, of the safe Arrival of four of their Ships.

On the 5th Inst. N. S. hapned a prodigious Storm in the Neighbourhood of Cologne; and at Heinsberg there fell Hail-Stones as big as Hens Eggs.

This Week the Lady of the Right Hon. the Lord Gower was safely deliver'd of a Son, at his Lordship's House in Grosvenor's Square.

The Canal and Rosamond's Pond in St. James's Park being almost choak'd up with Mud, are order'd to be drain'd and clean'd, and afterwards Gravell'd, and new Boarded on the Sides.

Yesterday Morning a Fire broke out in the Distilling-house without Aldgate, which burnt with great Fury; but by timely Assistance, the same was soon got under.

The State-Lottery-Office at Charing-Cross, kept by Mr. Wilson, directly behind the King on Horseback, having been so remarkable these thirteen Years past, for the many and valuable Prizes there sold, that, or register'd, renders it needless at this time to mention more than two, amongst others, transacted at that Place in the last Bridge-Lottery, viz. No. 51047 and 22883, one a Prize of 5000l. and the other of 10000l. Which uncommon and continued Success, together with the Care and Fidelity there to be depended on, occasions an extraordinary Demand at that Office for Tickets, Shares, and Chances of Tickets, several People chusing, even tho' they happen to have already purchas'd at other Places, to register them with him. We hear that Schemers, adorn'd with a curious emblematical Frontispiece, are given gratis to his Customers.
